

I fully support the Do Not Call List. I still get calls (2-4) each week, but they have gone down from 10-15 per week. Prior to the law, I was seriously contemplating eliminating my land line, and just using my cell. Marketers must respect our privacy at home. Note, I get more junk mail now. About 75% of all my mail just gets trashed, often without even opening the envelope. What a waste of trees.
